
During training both directions are scored;

the one with the larger gain is stored.

No missing GR in training? sklearn sends them to the larger child.