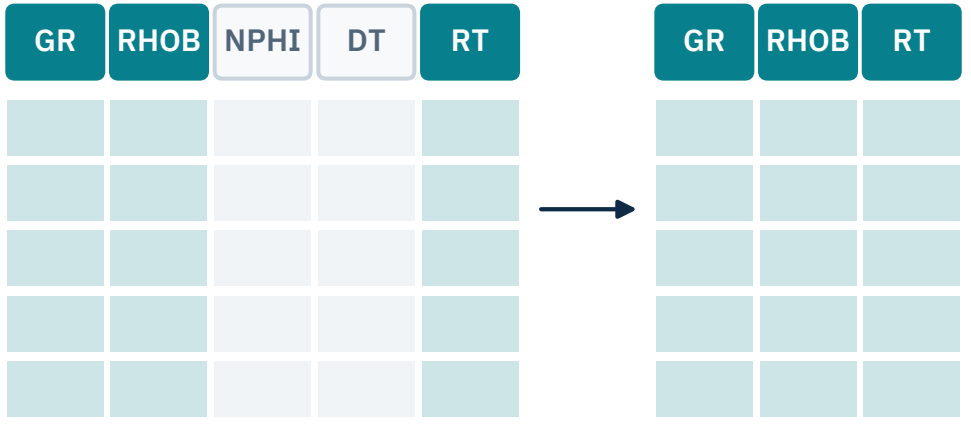
Feature selection



keeps names and units

unused sensors can go

A subset of the original columns

Feature extraction

every column contributes new axes need interpretation

New columns built from all of them